

RETWEETS AND LIKE TREND OVER THE YEARS

Over the years, there are proportionally more likes on tweets than retweets. However, likes and retweets frequently go directly proportional to the number of likes increase, also the number of retweets.

CORRELATION BETWEEN LIKES AND RETWEETS

I generated a regression plot to assess if there's a positive or negative correlation between the two features, i.e., whether they are positive or negative. This plot confirms positive correlation between the number of tweet likes and retweets. As the number of retweets goes up, the number of likes also increases drastically. It is safe to conclude that both the dog's tweet likes and retweets have a positive correlation with a 91% confidence interval.
